

LIVING IN THIS MOMENT

Living in this moment I see everything I've done
Kaleidoscope spinning in the rays of the Sun
Revealing the colours of the rainbow I've become
And here I am, here I am

I look at my past as an overgrown road
My future is a land of some dream my mind beholds
Yet all through this life I've been standing on this stone
Of here I am, here I am

Living in this moment is all I can do
Denying what's false and confirming what's true
Moving and breathing each second anew
Time is our common tattoo
Living in this moment

I look at the night and I count all the stars
I'll die before I know how many there are
They gave me this question, "what's near, what is far?"
And here I am, here I am

Challenging my future, forgiving my past
Hoisting up my sails as they tremble on my mast
And praying to the Wind, "please deliver me fast
For here I am, here I am."

Living in this moment is all I can do
Denying what's false and confirming what's true
Moving and breathing and being brand new
Time is our common tattoo
Living in this moment

Now, some stand like statues and some fly like geese
Some carry guns in the name of strange peace
While some suck in air and refuse to release
Still here I am, here I am

Walking this Red Road, hands held out at my side
Wondering who'll take them, there's nothing left to hide
We live by our valour and we die with our pride
And here we are, here we are

Living in this moment is all I can do
Denying what's false and confirming what's true
Moving and breathing each second anew
Time is our common tattoo
Living in this moment
In this moment. this moment
